

HAVE $1.48 CASH FOR $4,000,000 THEY PUT IN

Stockholders of Col. W. C. Greene's Gold-Silver Company Have Puzzle on Hand.

Some 4,000 stockholders of the Greene Gold-Silver Company, incorporated for $5,000,000, are industriously engaged in figuring out how $1.48 can be divided among them. So far as can be learned the live assets of the company comprise that balance in the Importers and Traders Bank. There is also some office furniture that a second-hand dealer might advance a few dollars on, but that would not help much in covering the $4,000,000 or $5,000,000 which the stockholders paid into the treasury upon the promise of Col. W. C. Greene that billions were waiting to be dug out of Mexican mines he controlled.

Col. Greene is missing. He has been away something like a year, and his present address is said to be Mexico. But where in Mexico is not known at present, but it is expected that when he hears that Richard A. Arnold, a broker, has sued to recover $1,125 due on commissions he will take the very first train and hurry here to explain what has become of all the money. It will be remembered that the colonel went to Boston once to shoot Thomas W. Lawson on the spot, and that the celebrated "battle of the bottles" ensued. J. H. Martin, assistant secretary and assistant treasurer of the company, and R. A. Jones, the secretary, are being examined in supplementary proceedings in the Arnold suit. Testimony so far shows that all the assets departed at the same time Col. Greene made his exit in the latter part of 1907, a month before the initial dividend of 4 per cent was declared on the preferred stock. It is claimed that the dividends, amounting to $6,031, were paid out of assets, and if that is so the directors are responsible. It is declared some of the properties that the company owned in Mexico have been lost through the non-payment of amounts due on them. Col. Greene has never made an accounting of the vast sums that passed through his hands. The Greene Gold-Silver Company flourished in the shade of the Greene Consolidated Copper Company, which owned such good copper mines in Canada that it was taken over by the Cole-Ryan party and allied with the Amalgamated Copper Company. Stockholders of the Gold-Silver company thought they had something as good, and beautifully printed circulars, prepared under Col. Greene's instructions, proved it. Col. Greene cannot be reached by civil process. Other proceedings are talked of.

WHISKEY FOR RHEUMATISM.

The increased use of whiskey for rheumatism is causing considerable discussion among the medical fraternity. It is an almost infallible cure when mixed with certain other ingredients and taken properly. The following formula is effective: "To one-half pint of good whiskey add one ounce of Toris Compound and one ounce of Syrup Sarsapilla Compound. Take in tablespoonful doses before each meal and before retiring."

It is surely worth trying by any one who may be afflicted.

Rich Neckwear Silks, from London and Paris—our own designs; Lincoln-Bennett London Hats—sold nowhere else in New York—and other Hats and Caps of our originating; luxurious warm Angora Garments, for motoring and Winter outdoor wear generally, and many other such things. And all the staple supplies in the very best qualities and complete assortment.

Men's "Business Suits"

Various Styles—But All Correct

A glance at any group of business men—on a train, a ferry boat, in a club—will show a considerable divergence of opinion within certain broad lines, as to dress. We have studied New York men's tastes well, and we are ready for them with whatever business clothes they elect to wear—and in as much of a hurry as their limited time demands.

FANCY SACK SUITS—most men prefer them, because they are easier to keep looking well. Great variety of splendid patterns, in the favorite colorings and models for old, young or middle-aged. $15 to $45.

FANCY WEAVE BLACK OR BLUE SUITS—these are a good second in popularity this season; and the effects are unusually handsome. Stripes and herringbone effects. $20 to $30.

PLAIN BLACK OR BLUE SUITS—these always have a conservative following, and we show a number of good quality, in serges and chevrons, at $15 to $40.

Main floor, New Building.

BLACK CUTAWAYS—to be worn with striped trousers, appeal to many men who like the dignity they give. Of thin or unfinished worsted—quite proper for semi-formal afternoon dress, too. $20, $25, $30.

FANCY WAISTCOATS—the demand for these relieving notes to the plain sack suit is constantly increasing. A fine selection here, at $2.50 to $12.

STRIPED WORSTED TROUSERS—to "spell" the trousers that go with your suit—$4 to $10.

And all of this clothing built in the thorough Wanamaker fashion, as nearly flawless in style and fit as experts can make it, out of all-wool materials.

Specially Made Shirts For Men of Generous Build

We are not satisfied with the usual run of factory-made shirts. They always ignore the big man—you can't blame them, either. For there are lots of big men, and their shirts take so much more material. We started the scheme, years ago, of making extra-size shirts, that were liberal in every proportion—neckband, armholes, sleeves, cuffs; body, and selling them for the same price that smaller men can buy shirts for. The plan was good and still is a great success.

A new lot of these Extra-size Shirts just in—plaited bosoms, or plain negligee style, handsome patterns and colorings; attached or detached cuffs; sizes 16 1-2 to 19, $1.50 Each

Men's Shoes at $3.65

For Now and Later

But you'll have to get them now, for they are fine samples of $6 to $9 shoes, and they won't be here later. They come from the best-known American makers of top-notch shoes for men, and bear their names, so you can see for yourself how good they are.

Only men who wear sizes 6 1-2, 7, 7 1-2 and 8 are interested; A and B widths, with a chance here and there for the man with a C foot.

$3.65 a pair ready tomorrow, and mighty well worth coming for.

The "SCARPIA"

The New Evening Cape, at $33.75

Keeping in close touch with all the famous artists of fashion in Paris and other cities abroad, our stock this season surpasses all others, not only in quantity, but in the unique assortment of the very latest models shown. We not only have more foreign coats than are shown in any other store in New York or London, but our domestic garments show distinction of style because they are mostly reproductions of our best foreign models. Not every woman who likes something different in apparel, wants to pay a high price for her discrimination; neither is it necessary, as our present stock shows.

The latest garment copied from a foreign model is

The "SCARPIA"—the new Evening Cape. An exact reproduction of a cape that sold for $90.

Made of prunella cloth, in shades of pearl gray, champagne, black, light blue; full 52 inches long, falling in graceful folds both back and front, closing at front with loops of velvet and large fancy buttons; the high Danton collar is trimmed with two handsome gilt braid ornaments and is made of contrasting velvet to match the rich peau de cygne linings, which are in the shades of champagne, lavender, purple, light blue and Copenhagen. The cape is lined throughout and interlined for warmth.

Price, $33.75.

There is a variety of plain tailored or elaborately braid-trimmed styles, including the high Danton collars, strappings of braid, giving a short-waisted effect, or plain single-breasted effects, in mannish cut, with strapped seams and notched collar. Coats are all satinated; and skirts are in the new gored models.

It is an unusually handsome group of suits, and any suit in it is a prize at its price—$25.

Revel, Drink In and Fondle This Collection Of ORIENTAL RUGS
That Will Make Your Heart Leap!

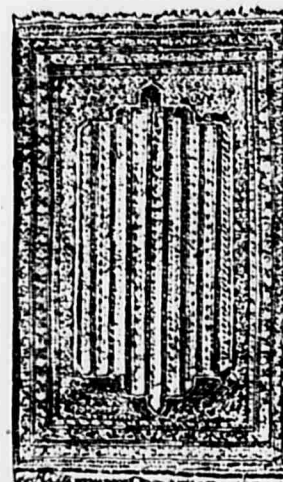

O you love an Eastern carpet? Do you feel its charm of perpetual youth and a deep sense of the antiquity of its "holy" colorings and symbols? Seated before your fireside have you ever thought that the hearth-rug under your feet was born in a mountaineer's hut, amid wild storms and tribal warfare? Or was it fashioned where the bees were humming among the flowers, and with warp and dyes that shall almost defy time!

By caravan and camel-route, through the heat of the desert, from Persia, from Constantinople and the Valley of the Nile, have come to us a collection of rugs in colorings and patterns used in the morning of the world.

All are welcome to view these beautiful carpets without obligation to purchase, and our experts will quote prices that make them as much of an asset, and as negotiable as a government bond.

A SHIRAZ RUG

COLORINGS: Soft yellows, rose, deep blues and old ivory. Heavy, firm, fine weave.

ANATOLIAN PRAYER RUG

COLORINGS: Light and dark cherry-red, blended moss-green, fine yellows and ivory, touched with blue. Deep, soft, firm pile.

DAGHESTAN AND SHERVAN RUG

Fine Worsted Wilton Rugs at $30 Should Be a Quarter More

These handsome Rugs are in the popular 9 x 12 ft. size. They are made of the long, hard-twisted worsted yarns which produce a very much better Wilton Rug than the common soft yarns which are used in the ordinary varieties of Wiltons.

There are thirty-three different patterns in this collection which provide excellent selection, some of which are the prettiest we have seen for some time. The colorings are also beautiful. Rugs of this quality sell regularly for $37.50—but these have now been marked at $30 each.

We also can furnish at short notice a number of Wilton Rugs of the same quality, 8½ x 10½ ft., $27, and 6 x 9 ft., at $19.
